Subject: RE: Non-Home Based Workforce Household Composition (Official Sensitive) [NOT PROTECTIVELY MARKED]

Bore da Rhian

In relation to your enquiry regarding non-home based workers, our socio-economic assessment team have provided the following explanation to clarify some of the assumptions relating to non-home based workers and numbers of dependants:

1. Inclusion of Site Campus workers in estimating numbers of dependants

The 4,000 site campus workers should not be included in the calculation of dependents as they are assumed not to bring family with them and therefore will not burden public services e.g. schools. The figure used in the calculation should be 3,000 non-home-based workers as seen in Table 3-16 from Section 3.5 of C1-2 Technical appendix.

2. Inclusion of Operations Period workers in estimating numbers of dependants

The 850 workers that are classed as "Operational staff" in the calculation are not operations workers that will be present during the Construction period of the power station; they are the 850 workers present during the Operation period of the power station. This is reflected in the separation of the analysis in C1 between the two different periods given they represent different magnitudes of workers (refer to paragraph 1.4.3 from C1 showing 9,000 as the peak during Construction period and refer to paragraph 1.4.33 from C1 showing 850 during Operation period) and different time periods (refer to Figure C1-4 from C1 showing around 10 years for Construction period and refer to 1.4.41 showing 60 years for Operation period).

3. Methodology of calculating the number of families and dependents

Taking the above points into account, using a figure 7,850 non-home-based workers as the basis for calculating numbers of dependants (as suggested in your letter) would be incorrect. In addition there is an additional step in the estimation process whereby different probabilities are estimated of different types of "family" households occurring based on household and occupational data and then applied to the number of non-home-based workers assumed to bring family (i.e. 3000 as noted in point 1 above).

I hope this explanation clarifies the basis of the assumptions in our assessment, however, please let me know if any further explanation would be helpful.

Kind Regards

Kieran

Subject: Non-Home Based Workforce Household Composition (Official Sensitive)

Good Afternoon Kieran

I write to you to seek urgent clarity on the household composition of on the non-home based workers, and in particular, the number of workers assumed to bring partners and dependents. Please see letter attached.

Also, regarding our catch up meeting on Tuesday, will you be in Anglesey or will it be a teleconference?

Kind Regards.
