Dear Sir/Madam,

Thank you for consulting Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service on the proposed non-material changes to the Sizewell C Development Consent Order.

Having reviewed the consultation documents, Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service has no objection to the proposed amendments.

The Service considers the changes to be primarily technical, administrative, and operational in nature and does not identify any material impact on fire safety, emergency planning arrangements, or the Service's ability to discharge its statutory functions. Whilst the proposed Integrated Reinforcement Yard introduces a different activity within the construction environment, it is not considered to materially alter the overall emergency response requirements associated with the development.

Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service would expect that:

1. Emergency vehicle access is maintained throughout all phases of construction and operation.

2. Any future changes that may affect emergency response arrangements are communicated through established stakeholder engagement arrangements.

3. Appropriate fire safety and emergency planning measures continue to be maintained in accordance with approved requirements and relevant regulatory standards.

Based on the information provided, Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service is satisfied that the proposed amendments are non-material and has no further comments on the application.

Yours faithfully,
