Subject: Please think about what you are doing

Good afternoon,

I live in Essex but having been staying near in Leiston in Suffolk for the past few days, next to Sizewell A&B nuclear plants.

It is with a very heavy heart that I write this email, I'm not usually one for campaigning and getting involved in projects. However, tuning in to the local area I cannot tell you the grief I feel over EDF's plans to build a third nuclear plant, Sizewell C.

Speaking to local residents and shopowners from various villages along the Suffolk coast, there is a huge sense of sadness, frustration, loss and anger. The land itself seems to be screaming out for all this to stop.

I understand that additional power is needed, which will also no doubt boost the economy and EDF's profits, but would urge you please to look deep with your hearts and reconsider this enormous nuclear project. There is a better way of providing clean energy, and you know that I am speaking the truth.

Protecting future generations of our children, wildlife, sea life, nature and the beautiful Suffolk Coast has to be more important than anything else. I urge you to please think about what you are planning to do, the damage of which may may be irreversible.

Yours sincerely

Jane Davis
