Can I suggest you use a fraction of the exorbitant amount of money you are intending to spend on these monsters to give the pensioners in this county a warm winter?

If offshore wind is so great, why are bills three times what they were before there was such a thing?

They are filthy, ugly, inefficient white elephants and I cannot believe the toddlers who must work in your planning inspectorate are being allowed to make such awful and far-reaching decisions.

In 100 years' time, if there is any planet worth saving after it's been destroyed by wind turbines and solar panels, future leaders will be holding their heads in their hands, wondering what on earth this generation was doing.

It's criminal.
