

As a resident of the area I am horrified at the size and extent of the proposals which will have a detrimental effect in total to a mainly rural area.

As an interested but non professional I have found the number and complexity of the planning applications bewildering and will put off many who would like to object.

I think that all the many applications should be looked at as a whole.