Dear Sirs,

We understand that at last weeks meetings it was mentioned that the boundary to our property is the walled garden however in the field where the boundary of our land is we have a barn with planning permission to convert this into living accommodation so we do not want the view directly outside of this to be confronted with a field full of solar panels. Evolution Power have said that they would allocate part of this field for our use in order that we can instal hedging and not have the panels so close to the barn. We just wanted you to be aware of this situation.

Regards Mr and Mrs Colby
