

The BESS battery system adds significantly to the visual impact of the proposal and is dangerous. It should not be approved. If it is approved the village of Aldington will need to take protective measures and should be made a significant profit sharing partner in the project.