

I do not think the developer has given a satisfactory response to the issues you set out in your online submission on the environmental, traffic, materials (██████████ manufactured solar panels which are full of toxic chemicals). Why isn't the Planning Inspector listening to local people and protecting the environment. I drove past a part built solar 'farm' today. Full of rubbish, totally destroys the landscape and natural environment.

The developer won't protect locals from construction traffic. The roads won't be safe enough to handle the thousands of construction traffic movements – HGVs, LGVs, site worker cars and minivans on our rural road network? This includes concerns over how the rest of the local B and C roads will be used. This is environmental vandalism
