

The B645 from the A1 to Great Staughton is not suitable for the amount of addition heavy traffic. This road is already dangerous with the sharp bends, long straights and farm entrances. The high volume of existing traffic includes commuters, school runs, cyclists and delivery vehicles and further heavy vehicles would only increase the danger. This road is also used by motorway traffic from the A14 and the A1 when there have been incidents on these roads.