

Whilst i appreciate that a digital survey may serve to aid the inspector's recall of certain aspects of the application i do not believe it would in any way replace the experience of walking the public footpaths and rights of way that traverse the four sites. Neither drone, nor on body videos could replicate the unique experience of walking in "plein air" away from the hubris of daily life. To be able to stop and appreciate the landscape, the breathtaking views and the heritage that this unspoilt area of North Beds/Cambs affords can not be underestimated.
