

I have been reading lately of the costs of switching off our wind farms and paying for keeping them switched off. Costs last year totalling £1.5 billion and expected to rise by 3-4 times that amount in 4 years.

Why do we need solar farms to escalate this problem when the infrastructure needs the money spent on it first.