

At a time when food security is becoming so important I must question the use of best and most versatile agricultural land as short sighted and not in the country's best interest. The loss of ancient biodiverse hedge row is a terrible thing for our wild.ife already struggling . This project is a terrible idea, too large and will destroy swathes of our valuable land . The benefits will not outweigh the cost to the environment and food production.