

These proposals are damaging to the landscape and are inappropriate. The red application land is contrary to local and national planning policies and the proposals will cause widespread damage to the Green Belt, and to the landscape around the many affected villages.