

I am a local resident in Woodstock.

I am very concerned about the scale of this proposal and it's effect on the whole area.

The farming, wildlife and residents and community and it's access to the countryside.

This is totally inappropriate for the area taking up huge amounts of green belt and alongside housing development.

This is not exactly temporary and will ruin the soil and wildlife forever...when removed there will just be masses of desolate acres which may never recover.

I accept some smaller farms are reasonable but this is outrageous and just a greedy money making plan...not a green proposal at all.
