

Submission ID: [REDACTED]

I've been following this massive project from the start since it will affect where I live, and I originally made an objection which I still hold. It seems PVDP haven't even answered some basic yet very important questions - it baffles me that if they can't answer these simple questions, how can we trust them to deliver this project? I'm still trying to understand how this project will benefit our community when it seems to destroy the very things that make our area special.