

It is clear from the current proposal that insufficient responses have been provided by the developers and many recommendations have been ignored. No activities should be allowed to commence until all open issues have been fully resolved as outlined by the latest stop Botley west report.