Good morning Planning Inspectorate,

We all support green energy, in fact I've been with a green energy supplier for more than 15 yrs.

But not in the way that has been proposed in our area.

Yes to

Solar on roofs
Solar above garages, airport hangars
Solar on school roofs
Community solar, run by the community and for the community on small but appropriate sized areas
Air source heat pumps

Also, geothermal energy which can be in any part of the UK and is up and running in some areas. It may have an upfront cost (everything does) but it's permanent and consistent heat after that. Doesn't have a large footprint on the land, can be hot enough to drive turbines.

And does not rely on erratic sun or wind.

Permanent and consistent heat forever.

I object to the proposed BW plans. It doesn't make financial sense and it's not practical nor efficient. It's a very bad land management plan.

There are so many inconsistencies and mistakes in the plans. It's such a mess. It's been causing dreadful stress in the communities affected.

Many thanks if you have read this,

Yours Sincerely,

Gerry Tissier
