Subject: Request by the Applicant PVDP for an extension

Dear Sirs

I understand that PVDP is seeking an extension to the timetable you have specified for such work. As I see it, the applicant has not done his homework in the specified timescale. If I was sitting my A levels and had not done my homework properly, my exam colleagues would be highly and justifiably upset if I was granted an extension to submit further material to promote my cause.

PVDP must NOT be allowed to circumvent the established procedures in this manner.

Yours faithfully
