

If land is compulsory purchased it cannot be returned to previous owner. Why is good quality agricultural land being acquired? Lies are being told in order to make deals when solar could be put on brown sites & old power stations. Considering the countries not on board with net zero also makes a mockery of it.