

Submission ID: S7F13CF3E

There is no concrete evidence that solar panels will make a difference with regards to climate change. Quite the contrary, smothering good agricultural land will decimate the environment. It will also restrict our food supply. We are now one of the few countries that are embarking on this with USA, Russia, China continuing down the fossil fuel path. We must stop this now.