

Submission ID: S3765882A

The loss of any more agricultural land in the UK is a great concern bearing in mind the reliance on food imported from overseas and the ongoing trading problems at a time of continuing conflict in many parts of the world.