

I would like to reiterate the increased probability and consequences of a thermal runaway incident given the cumulative impact of two large BESS sites, including the already consented Statera application, in close proximity to Granborough and the Claydons. This will present an unacceptable health risk to local residents due to the release of toxic gases and will also cause long term contamination risks with the control and removal of cooling waters needed to control the fires.