

There is much for private business to gain and I fear this is coming in front of national need. Solar is unreliable and seasonal at best. The land should be used for food. The land will never be returned to arable farming after the 'life' of the farm, if solar was so good what is there a 'life'. Wildlife will not be able to use or get in and or out of the areas. Land will be degraded, even small insects won't want to know, the basics of a wildlife web. Unacceptable construction traffic, we already have H2 (joke) and EWR. Roads condition. Safety, if a fire it would be devastating, even if they could put it out the roads and services not equipped. Eye sore. Reduced access for people to enjoy countryside for mental wellbeing.
