

I would like to invite the inspectorate to visit our property - [REDACTED]. Although the applicant visited the property previously and made comments that the property would be over 200m from any part of the solar PV modules so wasn't considered further - From our house you would be able to see solar panels AND BESS. With the BESS/collector compound and solar being particularly close to our house, this would create problems from both a construction point of view and once build. We would like to invite you to see and hear the ambience of what we currently have versus what we would have were this to be placed so close to our home. Although the applicant suggests in the case of the BESS that winds wouldn't be in the direction of our house should the possible (inevitable) happen of a fire, we would beg to differ. The winds do not always come from one direction and we do know that the toxic fumes (and noise) would affect both us and our property. We would request a visit from yourselves if at all possible. Thank you in advance.
