

We note the Examining Authority's (ExA) second written questions [PD-016], which were published on 5 June 2026. Historic England provides the following response to question Q2.7.2, which was referred directly to us under the cultural heritage heading.

We agree that some words are missing from the Statement of Common Ground (SOCG) and it should read "at the lower end of less than substantial harm". We have liaised with the Applicant, and we have signed an amended SOCG. We understand that the applicant will submit this SOCG to you for the 22 June deadline. We apologise for any confusion raised.
