

This has been pointed out before but the cumulative impact on the Claydons by the Rosefield development is huge. This will exasperate the diminishing green space (agricultural land) in north bucks due to the rush of quick financial gain applications for solar and Bess developments in the area. This development is far too big in one area or one land owner.