

The solar panels will take away from valuable farming land and local communities have not been considered