

I wrote in support of Lime Down.... Solar farms have been shown to increase biodiversity
.. The land can also be grazed. I suspect much of the objections are by individuals against such developments in their own back yard yet they would support those elsewhere. We are constantly told "the world is on fire environmentally'... In that case get on with it and develop green technologies.