

Document APP/7.17, Figure 4.9, has a larger setback from the northern boundary, however this is different to Figure 5.4 which shows a much smaller setback and needs amending to match Figure 4.9.

Pymars Lane, eastern edge of Site 7C and western edge of Site 7D. This is a medieval lane between Hempnall and Saxlingham Nethergate with a wooded tree lined border many metres deep on both sides. Consequently, this ancient woodland requires a 30m buffer zone to comply with the regulations regarding buffer zones.
