

The local reports should take into account the loss of farmland, the change of fields to industrial use, the insufficiency of the roads to move construction equipment and the absolute devastation of a rural area. This development is totally in the wrong place.