

Further to the recent planning application and my accepted comments I wish to elaborate on this. We have been visiting the area for some 40 years. The area has always been a retreat for us to enjoy the tranquil country life. This proposed farm will ruin the area altering the character of the countryside. We support Norfolk County Council submission that A and B Roads can only be used for construction and maintenance vehicles. There can be no access points on the site to country lanes. The use of Lodge Road adjacent to 2A should not be permitted.

This is yet a further example of poor political decision not giving any thought to the countryside and members of the public. The only people who gain anything is the money people who have no interest in the countryside and how the UK will produce its food. The proposed Sites 2A B and C are a lovely farm with open landscape and rights of way which we have walked over the last 40 years. It is 237 acres and when sown with wheat for one year produces enough for the production of over 75 million biscuits. More than enough to give every person in Britain a biscuit to have with their morning cup of tea. That is just one small farm, should we be sacrificing this substantial food production and our food security when there are so many better ways of producing our energy needs.
