Please don't build any more solar farms. The proposal for east pye is enormous and will ruin the landscape of the beautiful countryside, and will be detrimental to the wildlife in the area. We should be building solar farms on car parks and buildings not on farm land. Farm land needs protecting and should be used so the country has food security. There is no need for the UK to race to be nett zero when it destroys our green land. It's ugly and unnecessary, put solar panels on state owned buildings like hospitals and schools, and existing structures. We're ruining our beautiful countryside with these ridiculous solar farms. There's too many already.
