

The UK imports 40% of it's food . With a growing population do not use farmland for PYE.

PYE expect to make money where do they pay taxes on their profits? The UK or where their owning companies are based?

What is the carbon footprint of the project? Calculate for EVERY component used in the building of the equipment, the site construction, maintenance and decommissioning. Will the electricity it produces be greater than this?

Should the batteries go on fire is it in PYE's contract that they evacuate residents and their animals and pay for it?

Solar does not produce electricity when there is no sun or light. With a huge coastline electricity could be produce continuously by wave power.

Large lorries for construction are about 2.5m wide local roads are about 5 m wide with few passing places. The verges will be badly damaged and need repair and maintenance afterwards? Do PYE pay for this?
