

I wish to strongly object to the Site 5. In the middle of the proposed solar installation sits the Grade I listed Church of St Catherine with its Round western tower. These very distinctive Norfolk medieval Churches are some of the most iconic buildings in the county and the idea that the setting of this listed building wouldn't be harmed is complete nonsense. In addition they propose to construct a solar 400 Kv substation yards from the Church. The whole project is very destructive and it's unforgivable to even contemplate such vandalism.
