You don't often get email from [redacted]@historicengland.org.uk. Learn why this is important

Good Afternoon,

Due to staff illness no relevant representations have yet been submitted by Historic England during in the preexamination period. However, as we have undertaken extended preapplication consultation and identified that the proposals are unlikely to harm the significance of highly graded designated heritage assets within our remit, we have no further comments or observations to make at this stage. We agree with the conclusions of the assessment undertaken by the applicant.

We continue to work with the applicant on preparation of a Statement of Common Ground and will be on hand to answer the questions of the examining authority through the examination process. However, we believe that adverse impacts on the Historic Environment are focused upon non-designed archaeology and therefore outside of our remit as a statutory consultee. In this case we would defer to the experience of the local authority archaeological advisers, while continuing to offer archaeological science advice to them directly.

Should you have any further questions for Historic England, please contact me directly.

Kind Regards,

[redacted]
