

The time is now here to listen to us as local residents of SAXMUNDHAM and areas. One death has already occurred due to the ridiculous amount of traffic, people, and projects going on around this area. The waste of our money, for projects that I won't see up and running, but have helped pay for, which maybe future generations won't either. This needs to stop now, be replanned and redirected to another area of England to a brown field site. Before this chaos kills more people, animals and trees. It's barbaric.
