

I wish to comment on the unreasonably short time we have been given to APPOSE this request/submission.

The excessive use of abbreviations and references to paragraphs and subsections also makes the application seem impenetrable it is almost as if comments to the application are un-welcome

I struggle to understand why the applicants are so determined to build on an unsuitable site and are prepared to go to extreme levels to compensate .

I maintain that if a different site were located on STABLE ground it would be considerably cheaper and more convenient.

The local residents would not be exposed to the enormous increase in traffic which will damage the local road infrastructure ,create traffic problems which will affect local business and tourism and public safety.

If the proposed building were to go ahead it will fail due to insufficient stability within the ground. There will follow many attempts to rectify the problems causing a prolonged disturbance before it fails again.

I would ask you to reconsider the reality of what is being requested

Thanks

Tim Harrison
