

The destruction of Minster marshes and Pegwell Bay and former Hoverport would completely change the area for the worse. The negative environmental impact would affect the lives of hundreds if not thousands of people living in the area and destroy what remains of both an historic and environmentally important area of the country. These areas have been untouched for decades and even when the Hoverport was built, its demise saw a return to the natural state. We allow this degradation at our peril. Please leave it as it is.
