

This scheme is so disturbing that you wonder why the Government bothers to put it's name to RAMSAR sites, WWF sites, sites of Special Scientific Interest and all the other designations for Pegwell Bay. There is no good reason to disturb the Bay and it's wildlife again - there are other options available in the Medway area, where their other cables is going. The massive disruption to the Hoverport, which has developed into a wildlife haven and the disturbance caused by thousands of lorry-loads of rubble to allow them to build on marshland is unbelievable. I understood that the Government had issued instructions that marshland should never be built upon!

All these issues have already been raised, but the developer is totally ignoring all public voices. Their attempt at mitigation is completely absurd - they do not understand the ecology surrounding this precious site
