

I do not feel that National Grid has provided the depth of information necessary regarding their application with reference to the impact on the bird life, wildlife and general ecosystem at the old hover port and Pegwell Bay. Local residents and the research/evidence they have cannot and must not be ignored here. If this goes ahead we are in danger of losing an ecological habitat of the utmost importance to coastal and marsh bird life forever. It will be irreplaceable. Is this the legacy we wish to leave for future generations? I urge you to consider the grave consequences of allowing this project to go ahead in this particular location.
