

An attempt has been made to grasp the essence of this project. I am not au fait with much of what has been written but recognise the need for cabling from the HUGE wind farm blighting our horizons to make landfall somewhere. Pegwell looks an obvious choice it is to connect with grid services at this point. I nonetheless regret the disturbance to this fragile habitat and hope the commitments made by the constructors and their contractors to limit such disturbances and damage will be upheld. It would be tragic to see such commitments ignored...
