

I would like to express my concerns about national grid's proposed changes to the use of Pegwell Bay Hoverport. National Grid appear to be very dismissive of concerns about the potential disruption and destruction of a valuable site that has slowly rewilded over the years and has become very important to both wildlife and people. To say that it will have no impact on local businesses and tourism is wrong. Visitors come for the peacefulness and lovely views over the bay, not to be subjected to four years of construction works. Most importantly this proposal is directly adjacent to a NNR and is in an SSSI. It is unthinkable that it should be allowed to go ahead. Regards Linda Styles