Dear Secretary of State,

I entreat you to reexamine the proposed SeaLink infrastructure project in Suffolk. It was originally projected to cost £1.1b. SEAS disputed this and estimated it would be more like £3b. A reassessment has proved the latter figure to be correct. SEAS has proposed an alternative which would involve using existing structure through Suffolk and Kent with an estimated cost of around £300m. A huge saving.

Our area is being devastated by Sizewell. Around 20000 trees have been removed. It's a gargantuan project. I'm not against it per se but a smaller tried and tested reactor would have been a better option.

Please reconsider giving the go ahead to another massive project when there's a BETTER WAY.

Yours sincerely

Jane Bryden Brown
