Dear Secretary of State

You will only be too well aware of the public concern over the cost of achieving Net Zero.

A glaring example of this is the proposed NGV Sealink project linking East Suffolk & Kent. NGV told the Planning Inspectorate that was c £1.1 billion. Ofgem & the NAO estimate this to be almost 3 times,at £3.2 billion. How can you possibly allow the applicant to get away with this misrepresentation?!

With Nautilus having moved away from the Suffolk Coast and with the significant reduction in the export deficit, there is a very clear alternative which is to upgrade the pylons between Suffolk and Kent add an estimate estimated cost of £300 million

Quite apart from considering the British taxpayer and consumer in this regard, I would beg you to come up to this stretch of Coast and visualise for yourself the potential impact of cumulative development coming on top of Sizewell C : on the local landscape, wildlife, the economy, and health and well-being of the population.

In 30 minutes, it will become very clear

You cannot do this job from a desk in Whitehall!

Yours sincerely
Jamie Norman
