From: [redacted]
To: South East Anglia Link
Subject: What is the point of the enquiry and consultation process re Sea Link?
Date: 30 September 2026 15:26:43

National Grid have already started digging up Minster Marshes having sub-contracted the work to Seimens and earlier this week, clearance work has started on Pegwell Bay in preparation for digging it up once again

This project has got nothing to do with Net Zero which it has used as a carrot to be dangled in front of Ed Miliband who appears to have approved the Sea Link prior to Labour "winning" the General Election in 2024 with under 34% of the votes.

We now have no representation in Parliament who can stand up against this project as our MP has rather conveniently been gagged.

The new CEO of National Grid has admitted that the UK will never reach a Net Zero target and will always need oil and gas.

Where is democracy in all this?

Where is protection for our environment?

Where is protection from wild life?

I want Nature In My Back Yard (NIMBY) and I want National Grid to listen to local communities and show some respect. This project is going to cost UK tax payers billions of pounds with no real benefits. The only winners will be the directors and shareholders of National Grid.

If I am wrong tell me how I will benefit from taking electricity from Suffolk to Kent?

The Labour Government was wrong on HS2, was wrong on the genocide in Gaza and will be wrong on Sea Link if you give National Grid the go ahead.
Paul Whiteman
[redacted]