My client has repeatedly provided feedback to National Grid during the consultation periods, highlighting the concerns set out above and suggesting specific measures to reduce impacts and losses. However, there has been no response from National Grid, nor any reference to these suggestions in the Design Development Reports (DDR), indicating that they have not been properly considered.

My clients' farm benefits from a strategic location near Colchester, the A12, and A120, making it attractive for future residential and commercial development. While they have chosen to continue farming for now, they had planned to review these opportunities in the future.

The proposed pylons will prevent such development.
