

As a landowner who is going to have our family farm completely built straight through our main growing field and access through our house and farm driveway all I can say is I'm disgusted with the way I've been treated and lied to in the last few months. My land agent without permission signed for intrusive surveys, I since have had this reversed and sent money back however when emailing about my problem NOBODY bothered to respond to me. I've recently had correspondence saying my concerns would be listened too with regards to undergrounding of existing power lines however now I'm told I have to sign to agree but afterwards they can change their mind?? They've used bully tactics of holding my home driveway open access for 7 years just to get me to sign. I'm financially ruined by this as we are only a 67 acre farm. This week I have had messages on my phone saying we want to come and do a water vole survey in the height of summer during a drought. Then I get a message saying that's cancelled and then today they turn up to do the survey, look at the dry ground and after speaking with them it's apparent it's been signed off even though they haven't actually done the survey? The two airfield Tibenham gliding and priory farm take off over our land and they will be ruined by this also. Many people's lives ruined just because National grid won't listen to a better way of doing it! And actually LISTEN! to the people being affected by this who are losing their businesses and home values.
