

The information presented under the preliminary hearing timetable is complex and needs to be digested first. Oral argument and discussion must therefore follow the paper written by the Institute of Chemical Engineers . It is not possible within the Section 6 notice timeframe to have coordinated the necessary information and specific conditions so to be as “up front” as possible the F.A.C.T.S. Group have submitted their technical information separately so that we can refer and support it orally at the preliminary hearing.
