Dear Secretary of State Ed Miliband,

I write to raise concerns about the planned cable route for the wind farm extension (EN020032).

Issue

* The proposed route will cause extensive disruption - like a bull in a china shop.

Suggested Alternatives

* A better option would be to use an existing route nearer Fleetwood along the river shore.

* Or consider an alternative route along the edge of the river Ribble, where one could replace or enhance the flood barriers without much disruption along the way. I believe the birds or mussels will return once the project is complete.

Additional Proposal

* Please consider funding/designing a home wind turbine solution which could be sited in people's gardens or bolted to the side of houses.

* Connect such turbines to a household battery and the consumer unit.

* This could be developed in liaison with e.g. the Institute of Physics, to allow homeowners to generate some of their own electricity and reduce the need for a huge cable upgrade.

Thank you for considering these alternatives.

Yours sincerely,
