1.1 Designated Heritage Assets

1.1.1 Table 1.1 lists designated heritage assets within the study areas relevant to the baseline report in Application Document 6.10.A2 Appendix 10.2 Cultural Heritage Baseline Report and the cultural heritage impact assessment in Application Document 6.10 Chapter 10 Cultural Heritage. The assets are referenced in the table by a unique reference number allocated by the National Heritage List for England (NHLE).

Table 1.1 – Designated Heritage Assets

NHLE Reference	Designation	Period	Name	Description	Location/Distance to Limits of Deviation (LoD) m
1013190	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	Hall Garth Moated Site, Associated Drainage Channels and Fishpond	A well-preserved medieval moated site (c.225 × 112 m) south of the River Ouse, notable for its unusual twin-island layout. Two raised platforms (up to 1 m high) contain evidence of stone-founded buildings. The islands are divided by, but linked across, an internal moat and enclosed by a larger outer moat. Associated drainage channels and probable fishpond remains to the west. An unverified 'fort' shown on early OS maps lacks supporting evidence.	Within LoD
1014736	Scheduled Monument	Romano-British	Romano-British Villa at Cockle Pits, near Brantingham	Remains of a Romano-British villa north of Cockle Pits quarry, first identified in 1941 with mosaic discoveries (one now lost). Excavations in 1962 revealed a substantial villa with a large, tessellated room, corridor, and additional mosaic-floored rooms.	285

NHLE Reference	Designation	Period	Name	Description	Location/Distance to Limits of Deviation (LoD) m
				Cropmarks and excavation to the west indicate earlier Iron Age enclosures, later replaced by Roman rectangular buildings (2nd-4th centuries AD). All below-ground remains survive.
1018600	Scheduled Monument	Medieval, Post-medieval	Risby Jacobean Gardens, Hall and Medieval Settlement Remains	Earthwork and buried remains of 17th century formal gardens and the site of Risby Hall, together with part of the medieval village of Risby. The hall site is marked by cellar depressions, with well-preserved terraced gardens extending downslope, including platforms for pavilions, a carriageway, ornamental pond, and associated outbuildings. Additional features include garden boundaries, hollow ways, medieval building platforms, and water gardens with canals, ponds, and a deer park boundary.	350
1017487	Scheduled Monument	Medieval, Post-medieval	Axholme Carthusian Priory and Post-Dissolution Garden Earthworks, Melwood Park	Well-preserved earthworks of a Carthusian priory (founded 1395-96) with a moated inner court and extensive remains of the monastic complex, including cloister ranges with individual cells and gardens. Geophysical survey indicates excellent survival of wall lines and floor levels, with waterlogged moat deposits offering high potential for organic remains. The site also preserves evidence of pre-priory activity (a Premonstratensian chapel) and post-Dissolution reuse as a manor with associated formal gardens, including raised walkways and a prospect mound. Outer court earthworks, including a	390 probable gatehouse, trackway, and service areas, survive around the island.

1017567	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	Whimpton Moor Medieval Village and Moated Site	Earthwork and buried remains of a deserted medieval village, first recorded in Domesday Book (1086) and abandoned by the mid-16th century. The site includes a central east-west hollow way with connecting sunken lanes, around which are arranged tofts and enclosures containing house platforms. A moated homestead survives as a ditched rectangular enclosure, with further features including a possible village green, ponds, and water-management remains. Surrounding ridge and furrow earthworks preserve elements of the open field system.	425
1003241	Scheduled Monument	Iron Age	Beacon Hill Camp	An elongated earthwork on the north side of a natural hill, aligned east-west and largely defined by the natural escarpment. Defences include slight scarping, a ditch, and an irregular outer terrace on the north side. The earthworks are relatively slight. The site has been associated with use during the Civil War in 1644 by Prince Rupert. Part of the eastern outer earthwork has been truncated by a modern reservoir and fencing.	760
1017556	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	Kinaird Motte and Bailey Castle	Well-preserved remains of a Norman motte-and-bailey castle at Owston Ferry, built in the late 11th century to control a Trent crossing. The site comprises a substantial motte (over 5 m high) with an encircling moat, and two	840

				northern baileys containing buried remains of buildings and activity areas. Archaeological evidence indicates good survival, including palisades and occupation deposits, with infilled ditches preserving environmental data and evidence of refortification and slighting in 1173-74. Later features include St Martin's Church within the eastern bailey.
1015312	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	'Cellar Heads' Moated Site and Related Ridge and Furrow Earthworks at Risby Park, 700 m Northwest of Risby Park Farm	Partially quarried medieval moated site retaining 3 sides of its enclosing ditches, with evidence for entrances on the east and west. Despite disturbance, buried archaeological deposits are likely to survive within the enclosure and moat fills. The site is notable for its size and possible association with a high-status manor linked to the nearby 16th century deer park and reputed visit by Henry VIII. Well-preserved ridge and furrow earthworks to the east form part of its contemporary agricultural setting.	1025
1016933	Scheduled Monument, Grade II* Listed Building	Medieval	Adlingfleet Medieval Rectory, 60 m South of All Saints Church	Standing and buried remains of a rare medieval rectory complex centred on a 13th century stone chamber built by John le Franceys, a royal councillor and rector. The surviving two-storey limestone structure (Grade II*), now roofless, shows evidence of later alteration and reuse, including inserted openings and modified internal arrangements. The building represents only part of a larger rectory complex, with further structures, courtyards, and ancillary features surviving as	1094

				buried remains across the raised platform and adjoining areas. Surrounding features, including ditches and a probable infilled pond or moat, are likely to preserve well-stratified and organic deposits.
1007731	Scheduled Monument	Bronze Age	Bowl Barrow 400 m North of Highfield House	Prehistoric bowl barrow surviving as a low, partly reduced mound measuring c.27 m in diameter and up to 1 m high. Although affected by agricultural activity, the monument remains sufficiently. An encircling ditch, from which material for the mound was quarried, is no longer visible as an earthwork but survives as an infilled buried feature approximately 4m wide. The barrow is the only earthwork now visible at Hall Ings, although antiquarian records indicate that it was once part of a wider barrow cemetery.	1096
1012590	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	Beverley Sanctuary Limit Stone, Bentley Cross	Medieval sanctuary boundary marker associated with Beverley Minster, dating to the 13th century. It survives as a worked stone shaft, c.0.7 m high and 0.35 m square, with a deep chamfer and possible traces of a worn inscription, set on a modern base. The cross head is missing, and the monument has been relocated from its original position during road works. It is one of the surviving stones marking the outer limits of the Beverley Minster sanctuary jurisdiction (originally one of four).	1164

1017741	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	Medieval Settlement and Open Field System Immediately Southeast of Low Farm	Well-preserved earthwork and buried remains of a deserted medieval village, first recorded in Domesday Book (1086) and largely abandoned by the early 19th century. The site includes a system of hollow ways, tofts, enclosures, and building platforms reflecting the planned layout of the settlement. Key features include a central east-west hollow way with parallel tracks, rectangular and square tofts with evidence of house platforms, and areas interpreted as back lanes, ponds, and possible fishery remains. The site also preserves the churchyard of St Helen and associated settlement features, together with limited ridge and furrow indicating elements of the open field system.	1167
1006391	Scheduled Monument, Grade I listed building	Medieval	St Helen's Church	Ruined church (Grade I listed and scheduled) comprising the remains of a west tower and a Norman chancel arch, set within a near-rectangular churchyard defined by hedges, trees, and numerous historic gravestones. The southern boundary follows the line of a Roman road. The surviving chancel arch indicates a 12th century origin, supported by documentary references to the church in the late 12th and early 13th centuries relating to grants of tithes to Southwell Minster. The church likely began as a simple nave and chancel, with the tower and a possible north aisle representing later additions.	1182

1018619	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	Ringwork at Kingshaugh Farm	Well-preserved earthwork and buried remains of a medieval ringwork enclosing Kingshaugh House and associated farm buildings. The monument comprises a sub-circular enclosure c.120 m in diameter, defined by banks and ditches up to 3 m deep, with a stream forming a natural defensive boundary to the north. Additional defensive features survive to the south as a complex arrangement of banks, ditches, and a corridor entrance. Archaeological deposits within the earthworks, including buried land surfaces and ditch fills, indicate strong potential for structural, artefactual, and environmental evidence. Documentary sources place the site in use by the early 13th century as a fortified royal site.	1300
1005217	Scheduled Monument	Post-medieval	Weighton Lock, Blacktoft	Late 18th century lock and sluice (built 1772-83), controlling the outfall of the Market Weighton Canal into the River Humber. Constructed in ashlar and timber, the structure includes a lock c.3 m wide and 30 m long with two pairs of gates and surviving manual winching gear, and an adjoining sluice with twin arched openings divided by a semicircular pier.	1400
1016790	Scheduled Monument, Grade II Listed Building	Medieval	Market Cross 70 m West of the Church of St Peter and St Paul	Medieval market cross (Grade II listed) located on a small green 70 m west of the Church of St Peter and St Paul. The monument comprises four square steps (lowest c.2.5 m across), a square socket	1405

				stone, and an octagonal shaft surviving to c.2.3 m high, giving an overall height of approximately 3.8 m. The shaft tapers slightly and includes a carved niche on its eastern face; the cross head is missing. The cross is likely to stand close to its original position.
1007737	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	Camera and Moated Site at Faxfleet Hall	Site of a medieval camera (a subsidiary farm of a religious house, associated with the Knights Templar or Hospitallers), later reused as a moated site. The monument comprises a sub-rectangular island (c.90 × 40 m) enclosed by a largely dry moat 10-12 m wide, with partial infilling on the northern side, and an external bank. The island is free of modern development and is likely to retain buried remains of structures relating to both the camera and later occupation. The site was of high value in the early 14th century and represents an important example of a monastic farm later adapted within a moated enclosure.	1449
1019186	Scheduled Monument	Modern	Heavy Anti-aircraft Gunsite, 350 m West of Butt Farm	World War II heavy anti-aircraft gunsite retaining the core operational elements of four-gun emplacements and a command post. The site includes brick-built, concrete-roofed structures arranged in an arc, with emplacements of standard DFW design for 3.7-inch guns, incorporating ammunition recesses and crew shelters. The command post, largely intact, contains a series of semi-sunken rooms surrounding an open central	1705

				area used for fire-control equipment. Associated earthworks include the remains of a radar installation.
1015537	Scheduled Monument, Grade II Listed Building	Medieval	Market Cross at Junction of High Street, Low Street and Haxey Lane	Remains of a medieval market cross (Grade II listed) located at a road junction at the east end of Haxey. The monument comprises a limestone platform c.1.5 m square and 0.3 m high, set on a later brick plinth, supporting a square limestone base (0.8m across, 0.3 m high) and a surviving section of shaft. The shaft fragment (c.0.45 m high) is square at its base, with chamfered corners forming an octagonal upper section, and retains a socket for a missing upper shaft or cross head. It is now secured with iron fittings. The cross is considered to remain in its original position.	1788
1007972	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	Moated Site at Metham Hall Farm	Medieval moated site on a slight rise near the north bank of the Humber, comprising a sub-rectangular island c.80 × 40 m enclosed by a moat. The northern, southern, and western arms of the moat survive to widths of 8-10 m and depths up to 2.5 m, while the eastern arm has been modified and widened into a later decoy pond. The site survives reasonably well and is likely to retain buried remains of former buildings on the island. The monument is associated with the Metham family and forms part of a wider group of comparable moated sites in the area.	1890

1019823	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	Baynard Castle	Earthwork and buried remains of a medieval magnate's residence, including the inner court, moat, part of the outer court, and a surviving section of the outer defensive bank. The inner court is approximately 90 × 100 m, enclosed by a substantial moat up to 30 m wide and over 2 m deep, with good potential for preserved archaeological and environmental deposits. Excavations have demonstrated strong survival of medieval remains, including wall footings, floors, and high-status structural elements. The site has a well-documented history from the late 11th century, with fortification in 1201 and later development as a manorial centre, before declining by the 14th century.	2227
1011847	Scheduled Monument, Grade II Listed Building	Medieval	Standing Cross on Walkeringham Village Green	Remains of a medieval standing cross (Grade II listed) situated on the western edge of the former village green. The monument comprises a three-stepped calvary of sandstone blocks (c.2.5 m diameter, 0.8 m high), a square socket stone with chamfered angles forming an octagonal upper section, and a small surviving stub of the shaft. The base is of unusual semicircular ('D'-shaped) form, indicating it was originally set against a wall. The shaft is largely lost, surviving only as a short pedestal with evidence for a narrower inserted shaft.	2362
1005219	Scheduled Monument	Romano-British, Neolithic, Bronze	Brough Petuaria Roman Settlement	Multi-period archaeological site centred on the Roman fort and later enclosure at Brough-	2368

NHLE Reference	Designation	Period	Name	Description	Location/Distance to Limits of Deviation (LoD) m
		Age and Iron Age		on-Humber, traditionally identified with Petuaria. Evidence indicates earlier prehistoric activity, including Neolithic flint finds and Bronze Age settlement, followed by occupation by the Iron Age Parisi tribe. Roman activity began in the later 1st century AD with the establishment of a temporary camp, soon replaced by a c.4.5-acre auxiliary fort. Subsequent phases include redevelopment, expansion of defended areas, and later re-fortification in timber and then stone during the 3rd-4th centuries. Archaeological investigations have identified multiple phases of military construction and occupation, with associated extramural buildings and activity zones. Later Roman remains include substantial defensive works and internal structures, although evidence for a civilian town is limited.
1015315	Scheduled Monument, Grade II Listed Building	Medieval	Mowbray Cross, Green Hill, Church Street	Medieval standing cross (Grade II listed) on Haxey village green, restored in the 19th century and considered to remain in its original position. The monument comprises a partially buried socket stone (c.0.8 m square) with moulded corners forming an octagonal upper section, supporting a restored shaft. The shaft rises to c.2.5 m, chamfered to an octagonal form, and includes a carved relief panel depicting the Mowbray arms.	2424
1015538	Scheduled Monument,	Medieval	The Lady Mowbray Stone Cross Base,	Medieval cross base (Grade II listed) located at the eastern end of the churchyard of St	2650

NHLE Reference	Designation	Period	Name	Description	Location/Distance to Limits of Deviation (LoD) m
	Grade II Listed Building		East of Church of St Nicholas	Nicholas Church, set within the modern pavement. The monument comprises a worn limestone ashlar base with a square foot (c.0.65 m across, 0.4 m high) and an octagonal upper section, retaining the broken stump of the shaft flush with the socket. The cross is considered to stand in its original position and is one of three surviving crosses in Haxey. It shows signs of later reuse, including as a mounting block, and has documented cultural associations with the Haxey Hood ceremony.
1012591	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	Beverley Sanctuary Limit Stone, Walkington Cross	Medieval sanctuary limit cross associated with Beverley Minster, surviving as a weathered stump of the original shaft set into a square stone base. The shaft (c.0.6 m high) has chamfered corners and no visible decoration; it is set within a square socket in a base c.0.3 m high. The cross is considered to remain in its original position on the edge of Walkington and is one of a group of boundary markers defining the Minster's sanctuary limits, of which three survive. Its location and form indicate its function as part of the wider sanctuary boundary system.	2651
1008630	Scheduled Monument	Medieval	Hayton Castle Moated Site and Fishpond	Medieval moated site comprising a roughly square platform c.60m across, enclosed on three sides by a substantial moat up to 15 m wide and around 1 m deep; the northern arm has been removed and recut as a later drainage dyke. The platform remains intact	2890

				and retains visible traces of wall footings at the south-west corner, indicating the former presence of a substantial structure, possibly a fortified manor. To the west, separated by a broad bank c.10 m wide, lies a rectangular fishpond (c.50 × 12 m), partly truncated to the north but otherwise well preserved. The site is associated with the de Hayton family.
6802	Conservation Area	-	Ellerker	Ellerker Conservation Area encompasses the historic core of the village, centred on Main Street and Sands Lane, extending to Howden Hill Croft and land to the rear of Ings House, reflecting the likely extent of a medieval planned layout. The area includes key historic components such as the site of the manor with associated fishponds and landscape setting, historic mill sites off Main Street and Mill Hill Lane, and later development around Mill Hill. It also incorporates the farm complex at Garth Farm and extends to the village edges along Sands Lane. The conservation area preserves the village's linear form, traditional buildings, and agricultural character, with boundary features, open spaces, and views contributing to its rural setting. It contains 5 listed buildings.	104
216	Conservation Area	-	East Drayton	Compact conservation area designated to preserve the historic character of East Drayton, covering approximately 10.6 hectares. The area includes 6 listed buildings and reflects a coherent historic settlement	247

1212946	Grade I Listed Building	Medieval	Church of St Peter	Parish church of late 12th century origin, expanded in the 13th and 15th centuries and later restored. It features a four-stage west tower, perpendicular-style windows, a 12th century doorway with dogtooth ornament, and a notable 15th century south porch. The interior retains 13th century arcades, a 15th century screen, and later fittings.	605
1234072	Grade I Listed Building	Medieval	Church of St John the Baptist	Parish church of 13th century origin, with development in the early 14th and 15th centuries, restored in the mid-19th century and with the tower restored around 1900. Built of coursed rubble with ashlar dressings, it comprises a west tower, nave, north aisle, south porch and chancel with embattled parapets. Key features include a two-stage buttressed tower, 14th century chancel with intersecting tracery windows, and 15th century panel-traceried aisle and nave windows. The south porch retains a 13t century doorway with nailhead ornament.	890
1083261	Grade I Listed Building	Medieval	Church of St Martin	Parish church of 13th century origin, with major additions in the 14th and 15th centuries, later altered in the 18th century and restored in the 19th century. It comprises a west tower, aisled nave, south porch and chancel, built of rubble with ashlar dressings. Notable features include the two-stage embattled tower with pinnacles and gargoyles, traceried aisle windows, and a fine 15th century inner doorway. The interior retains arcades of	911 differing dates, 18th century roofs, and numerous 17th-19th century monuments and fittings.

1083144	Grade I Listed Building	Medieval	Church of All Saints	Parish church of mainly 13th century date, incorporating 12th century reset doorways and extended in the 15th century with the south aisle, clerestory and tower; the chancel was rebuilt in the late 18th century and the building restored in the 19th and mid-20th centuries. Constructed of rubble and ashlar with slate roofs, it has a cruciform plan with west tower, aisled nave, transepts and chancel. Notable features include the embattled two-stage tower with perpendicular window tracery, a fine 12th century chevron-decorated south doorway, 13th century arcades and crossing arches, and a geometric-traceried east window.	1179
1216694	Grade I Listed Building	Medieval	Remains of Church of St Helen	Remains of a parish church of 12th and 15th century date, constructed of ashlar, dressed stone and coursed rubble, now comprising chiefly the west tower and chancel arch. The two-stage tower retains 15th century lancet openings and bell openings with hood moulds, along with surviving gargoyles, while the 12th century chancel arch preserves early Romanesque detailing with engaged colonettes. A later 14th century tower arch survives, and the interior includes an 18th century wall monument.	1190

1083151	Grade I Listed Building	Medieval	Church of Saint Mary Magdalene	Parish church of 12th century origin, largely rebuilt in the early 14th century with later additions including 15th-16th century tower stages and late 16th century aisles, and restored in the early 18th and late 19th centuries. Constructed of limestone ashlar with later brick aisles, it comprises a west tower, aisled nave and chancel. It has a central entrance with sash windows on either side, and retains many traditional features despite some later alterations. The house is double-depth in plan, with gable ends facing the street and characteristic brick detailing.	792
1212508	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Manor Farmhouse	Manor Farmhouse is a late 18th century red-brick house with a tiled roof and gable stacks, arranged over two and a half storeys with a symmetrical three-bay front. It has a central entrance with sash windows on either side and above, while a lower, earlier two-storey wing extends to the rear.	811
1234073	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	The Shambles	Barn, dating from the early and late 18th century, extended and converted over time into multiple cottages and later a single dwelling. It is a two-storey whitewashed brick building with a long frontage, with several doorways and windows of varying sizes, with	819

				evidence of extensions visible in the walls. Despite alterations, it retains features of its agricultural origin.
1234976	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Outbuilding 20 m North of the Priory	Early 19th century outbuilding is a single-storey brick structure with a pantile roof and a single ridge stack, arranged in five bays. Its openings have four-centred arched heads, and the south front includes an off-centre casement with decorative tracery flanked by one door to the left and three doors to the right, all with pilasters and pediments. It is noted for group value only.	821
1234975	Grade II Listed Building	Medieval, Post-medieval	The Priory	The former priory, now in use as an old people's home, originates from the 12th century, with 19th century restoration and a large later addition. It is built of coursed rubble with ashlar dressings and brick, and has tiled and slate roofs. The building is two storeys with attics and arranged in an L-plan of six bays, with multiple stacks. It features a range of lancet windows, many restored or added in the 19th century, along with later doors and windows. The 19th-century extension includes a gabled porch, bay windows, and additional sash windows. Inside, the building retains historic features including oak panelling, several period fireplaces, and early doors.	823

1234974	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Meeting House	The former meeting house, now a house, dates from the 17th century and was refronted in the 18th century, with possible timber framing. It is built of brick with a steeply pitched hipped and gabled roof, and has two storeys in an L-plan. The building includes a range of Yorkshire sash and casement windows, mostly 19th century, and features such as cogged eaves, ridge stacks and decorative brickwork to the east gable. Entrances are located on the east side with a 20th century porch and additional plank door.	825
1275841	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	The Barn	The late 18th century barn is a brick building with a pantile roof, cogged eaves, and a coped gable with kneelers, arranged in three bays. The south front has modern sliding doors flanked by blocked slit ventilators, with four diamond-shaped breathers above. The east gable includes slit openings, diamond breathers, and wall ties forming the initials “T M.” The north side has a stable door with overlight and a segmental-headed door set within a blocked barn opening.	850
1216695	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Church Farm House	The house dates from the late 18th century, with additional work around 1909. It is a two-storey brick building, rendered and colourwashed, with an L-shaped plan and rear wings. The front elevation has three bays with a central half-glazed door flanked by windows, and further windows above, mainly in the form of Yorkshire sashes.	860

1346729	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Barn Approximately 50 m Northeast of Haldenby Hall	The threshing barn dates from the mid to late 18th century and is a rectangular six-bay brick structure with a pantile roof and central through waggon entrance. Built in English garden wall bond, it features entrances with timber lintels and brick relieving arches, along with multiple tiers of ventilation slits and pitching hatches on both sides.	867
1216696	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Boundary Wall at Church of St Peter and St Paul	The 19th century boundary wall built of dressed stone with ashlar coping, has a battered face. Approximately 100m long, it includes a pair of cast iron octagonal gate posts and wrought iron gates with an overthrow and remnants of a lamp, and is noted for group value.	876
1421785	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Sturton le Steeple War Memorial	The war memorial, unveiled on 2 June 1921, commemorates men of Sturton le Steeple who died in the First World War, with later additions for those lost in the Second World War. Designed by Austin & Paley and made by A.O. Thoms, it is constructed of stone and takes the form of a cross on a hexagonal plinth set on a stepped circular base. The plinth bears an inscription with the names of the fallen.	876
1156811	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Highfield Farmhouse	The farmhouse, dated around 1820, is a two-storey gault brick building with a hipped slate roof and three-bay front. It has a central modern door with overlight, flanked by sash windows, with three similar windows above.	886

				There are stacks to the rear, a 19th century single-storey extension to the right and a later 20th century extension to the rear.
1370368	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Pigeoncote and Fodder Store at Pear Tree Farm	The pigeoncote, dating from around 1796, is a two-storey brick building with a tiled roof and three-bay front. It has a central boarded door with blocked tiers of pigeonholes above, and similar openings in the gables. A single-storey lean-to at the rear, a central door with ventilation slits.	887
1275842	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	The Old Dovecote	The former pigeoncote, now a house, dates from the mid-18th century and is a three-storey brick building with garrets, later adapted for domestic use. It has a two-bay front with a mixture of Yorkshire sash and casement windows, multiple doorways, and retains tiers of pigeonholes and alighting shelves at upper levels. A 19th century single-storey porch is attached to the front, and the building includes a continuous rear outshut along with a varied roof of plain, pantile, and asbestos cement tiles.	897
1276556	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Marnham Hall	The early 18th century house is a substantial red-brick building with a hipped tiled roof, attic and basement, arranged over five bays. It features a central entrance with a panelled door and fanlight, flanked by sash windows with similar windows above and dormers in the roof. There is a rear wing dating to around 1800. Internally, it retains barrel-vaulted	899

				cellars and a staircase with reused late 16th century balusters, and it is associated with the Cartwright family.
1234973	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Diamond House	Former school, dated 1691 with later 18th and 19th century alterations, is a two-storey brick building with a tiled roof and ashlar dressings, arranged in three bays with a double-range plan. The main front has a central doorway flanked by sash windows, with further windows above and a segmental pediment.	911
1083286	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Farmhouse Approximately 100 m East of Mosswood Grange Farmhouse	The farmhouse, built in 1795 for Cornelius Stovin, is a two-storey brick building with attic and a symmetrical three-bay front. It has a central entrance with sash windows, gabled ends with date and initials, and retains interior features such as a staircase, beams, and original grates.	912
1156743	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Fountain Hill Farm House	The farmhouse from the 18th and 19th centuries, is a two-and-a-half-storey brick building with a tiled roof and a symmetrical three-bay front. It has a central doorway with a hood and half-glazed door, flanked by sash windows, with further sash windows on the upper floors. A two-storey lean-to range extends to the rear.	919
1234071	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Church Farmhouse	The late 18th century farmhouse is a two-storey red-brick building with a hipped tiled roof and six-bay frontage. It has multiple doorways and sash windows across the	927 ground floor, including a central entrance with a hood, with further windows above.

1161800	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Fockerby Hall	The house dates from the early to mid-19th century, with a rear wing of 18th century or earlier origin. It is a two-storey brick building with stone dressings and a slate roof, arranged in an L-plan with a central entrance hall and three-bay symmetrical south front. The entrance has a Doric doorcase with columns, entablature, and overlight, flanked by large sash windows. The rear wing includes a separate entrance and additional windows. Stands on a site of a medieval manor house.	930
1309899	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Haldenby Hall	The house dates from the late 17th century, with mid-19th century alterations, a porch, and a rear wing. It is a two-storey T-plan building of whitewashed red brick with a tiled roof, and a later rear wing of yellow brick with a slate roof. The front has an open brick porch and a half-glazed door, with various sash windows and a first-floor band. It has multiple brick gable and ridge stacks. It stands on or near the site of the former Haldenby Hall.	934
1234972	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Methodist Chapel	The Methodist chapel dated 1847 with later 19th century additions. Single-storey brick building with a hipped slate roof. The east front has a central bay with round-headed sash windows and a datestone, flanked by recessed bays with later porches containing	945

				multiple doors. Additional plaques are set above these bays.
1309954	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Garthorpe Hall	The house dates from around 1680, with later alterations, rear additions, and renovations. It is a two-storey red-brick building with attic, arranged in a multi-bay frontage with some blocked windows, and has a central entrance with a panelled door and overlight. It includes a rear stair turret and later outshuts, with a pantile roof and a central ridge stack. Internally, it retains features including an inglenook fireplace, spine beams, a staircase of 17th century character, panelled doors, and a cellar. It stands on the site of an earlier hall near the former course of the River Don.	951
1276445	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Whimpton House	The early 19th century farmhouse is a red-brick building with a rendered base and pantile roof, with two gable stacks. It has two and a half storeys and a three-bay front with a single-bay wing to the right. The central doorway has a panelled door with overlight and moulded surround, flanked by sash windows. The exterior also includes tie plates, and there is a two-storey rear extension.	960
1083176	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	Barn Approximately 25 m South of Garthorpe Hall	The threshing barn, dated 1791, is a two-storey red-brick building with a tiled roof and five bays. It has central wagon entrances on both sides, ventilation slits along the walls, and a pitching hatch in the gable, along with iron tie bars and lettering.	961

1370396	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	The Green, Conservatory and Boundary Wall	The farmhouse, dating from the 18th century, is a two-storey brick building with a five-bay front and slate roof, with later extensions to both sides. It has a central doorway with a decorative surround and overlight, flanked by sash windows, with additional windows above. Further additions include a conservatory and later extensions. A brick boundary wall with stone coping forms part of the setting.	982
1309909	Grade II Listed Building	Post-medieval	2, Skidby Road	The house has probable early 18th century origins, with a 19th century extension. It is a two-storey building constructed of chalk block and rubble with brick to the later section, and has a tiled roof. The three-bay front has a central door flanked by sash windows, with similar windows on the first floor, and the building includes both end and axial stacks.	995

1.2 Non-designated Heritage Assets

1.2.1 Non-designated heritage assets in Table 1.2 are identified by their Historic Environment Record (HER) reference number.

1.2.2 Heritage assets identified from desk-based research and/ or fieldwork surveys carried out for the Project are identified by the prefix ‘AEC’. This reference is shown alongside the HER reference where it is assessed that the asset is likely to be the same as, or closely associated with, the HER entry.

1.2.3 Where the distance to the Order Limits is shown as ‘0’, this indicates that the asset’s location is either on the edge of the Order Limits, within the Order Limits, or is an asset that passes through the Order Limits, for example, in the case of ridge and furrow or boundary ditches.

1.2.4 Gaps in the description column for some HER entries indicate that description text is unavailable. The chronology notes and abbreviations that accompany the descriptions of some HER entries have been reproduced, for completeness.

HER Reference and/ or Project UID	Period	Name/Monument Type	Description	Location/ Distance to Order Limits (OL) m
AEC001 1566826	Iron Age/Roman	Coaxial Field System/Field	Iron Age or Roman field system and enclosures identified from aerial photographs as cropmarks and former earthworks, centred at TA 0332 3466. Substantial wide banks, once visible as earthworks, have been levelled, while some ditches survive as cropmarks. The layout consists of parallel double banks aligned south-west to north-east, with smaller rectilinear enclosures set perpendicular to this alignment. The arrangement is characteristic of a coaxial field system, which is uncommon in the Hull Valley NMP area but widespread in the Vale of York. Part of the system has been later disturbed by post-medieval ridge and furrow.	337
AEC002	Medieval to post-medieval	Field system/ ridge and furrow	Linear cropmarks in an 'X' shape and a trackway were noted on aerial photographs and during the National Mapping Programme.	40
AEC003 1566007	Iron Age/Roman	Enclosure/Field System/Field Boundary/Boundary Ditch	(1566007) A probable Iron Age or Roman rectilinear enclosure and boundary ditch are visible as cropmarks on aerial photographs, located at TA 0444 3558. The enclosure is sub-rectangular, measuring about 65 m by 47 m, and contains internal subdivisions. In some areas, up to three outer ditches are present, likely representing different phases of activity. The	251

			enclosure is aligned with a sinuous boundary ditch, which may follow a former natural watercourse.
1566009	Iron Age/ Roman	Field Boundary/Field System/Enclosure/ Trackway/	(1566009) A probable Iron Age or Roman rectilinear enclosure, trackway, and field system visible as cropmarks on aerial photographs, centred at TA 0484 3577. The sub-rectangular enclosure (at TA 0487 3553) measures up to 127 m by 66 m and is defined by three ditches; no southern side is visible, possibly due to alignment with a natural watercourse. The outer ditch, with rounded corners, appears to cut a trackway approaching from the northeast, while the trackway diverts to avoid the inner ditches, indicating the enclosure developed in two or three phases. Fragmentary ditches nearby may represent contemporary field boundaries, though some ditches correspond to later mapped boundaries or drainage features and were not recorded. Part of the enclosure and trackway has been destroyed by a drainage lagoon visible in 2008 aerial imagery.	494
AEC004 1375491	Iron Age/Roman	Field Boundary/Field System	An Iron Age or Roman coaxial field system with associated enclosures, trackways, and boundaries visible as cropmarks and former earthworks, centred at TA 0489 3677. The system consists of long, parallel field boundaries (typically 60-70 m apart) with occasional short cross boundaries. Alignment shifts from northwest-southeast in the south to northeast–	862

			southwest in the north. A broad, fragmentary trackway shares this alignment, though no direct connection to the field system is evident. Within the system are multiple rectilinear enclosures, occurring singly and in groups, some with internal divisions indicating multiple phases. A large double-ditched enclosure is also present. An area of enclosure concentration forms a central north-south corridor, including a large triangular ditched enclosure and several smaller attached rectilinear enclosures. Fragmentary trackways and field boundaries are also present across a site approximately 508 m wide.
AEC005 1087958	Iron Age/Roman	Trackway/ Enclosures/ Field Boundary	(1087958) An Iron Age or Roman trackway, enclosures, and field system are visible as cropmarks (centred at TA 0390 3683). The trackway runs north-east to south-west with extensions to the east and west. Enclosures and field boundaries flank the trackway, including three conjoined enclosures to the south. The central enclosure contains a circular feature, likely a round house. Additional enclosures and circular features are present nearby. LiDAR shows the trackway surviving as a flattened terrace.	305
1566066	Neolithic/ Bronze Age	Pit Alignment	A possible Neolithic or Bronze Age pit alignment visible as a cropmark at TA 0387 3674. It comprises two pairs of pits and a single pit forming a double alignment on a north-west to	305

			south-east axis, with paired pits spaced about 8 m apart and gaps of 5-6 m between pairs.
1566179	Bronze Age/ Iron Age/ Roman/ Medieval	Pit/Field Boundary/Field System	(1566179) A probable medieval double-ditched boundary visible as a cropmark at TA 0403 3681. It overlies part of an Iron Age/Roman field system and a Bronze Age round barrow, and contains traces of ridge and furrow. A rectangular pit lies between the ditches.	305
1566210	Iron Age/ Roman/ Medieval	Field Boundary	(1566210) A medieval or post-medieval field boundary is visible as a cropmark (centred at TA 0389 3685). It cuts through part of an Iron Age/Roman cropmark complex.	305
1566255	Iron Age/ Roman	Field Boundary/Field System/Curvilinear Enclosure	Fragmentary ditches of possible Iron Age or Roman date are visible as earthworks at TA 0415 3670. One curvilinear ditch may form part of an enclosure, though some features may be modern drains.	305
1566176	Bronze Age	Round Barrow	(1566176) A Bronze Age round barrow is visible as a cropmark at TA 0396 3676, defined by a circular ditch about 18 m in diameter. It appears to be cut by a later double-ditched enclosure of probable medieval date.	305
1566181	Bronze Age	Round Barrow	(1566181) Two arcs of ditch at TA 0399 3681 may represent a Bronze Age round barrow, visible as cropmarks. However, the evidence is from poor-quality imagery, and the features may be non-archaeological.	305

HER Reference and/ or Project UID	Period	Name/Monument Type	Description	Location/ Distance to Order Limits (OL) m
AEC006 1566060	Medieval	Boundary Ditch	A probable medieval boundary ditch is visible as a cropmark between TA 0331 3702 and TA 0337 3661. It aligns with a gap between areas of medieval ridge and furrow to the south and likely formed part of the same boundary.	185
AEC007	Iron Age/Roman	Field Boundary/Field System/Trackway	A possible Iron Age or Roman field system is visible as earthworks on lidar (centred at TA 0350 3648). It comprises broad north-south aligned banks underlying medieval ridge and furrow. The boundaries lie perpendicular to a projected Iron Age/Roman trackway, with one perpendicular bank possibly representing the trackway itself.	21
AEC008 1566281	Medieval/ Post-medieval	Ridge and Furrow	(1566281) Medieval and medieval/post-medieval ridge and furrow is recorded at grid reference TA 03369 37688 in the parish of Woodmansey, visible as earthworks and cropmarks on aerial photographs. The remains appear to be largely no longer extant by 2008 vertical photography, likely due to levelling or later land use.	0
1566956	Medieval/ Post-medieval	Ridge and Furrow	(1566956) Medieval ridge and furrow is recorded in the parish of Rowley, visible as earthworks and cropmarks on aerial photographs. Small areas survive as earthworks at Risby, but most of the remains appear to have been levelled by the time of the latest 2008 vertical photography.	0

HER Reference and/ or Project UID	Period	Name/Monument Type	Description	Location/ Distance to Order Limits (OL) m
1566276	Medieval/Post-medieval	Ridge and Furrow	(1566276) Medieval and medieval/post-medieval ridge and furrow is recorded in the parish of Rowley, visible as earthworks and cropmarks on aerial photographs. Some areas appear to be no longer extant on the latest 2008 vertical and 2011 oblique photography.	0
1566959	Post-medieval	Ridge and Furrow	(1566959) Post-medieval ridge and furrow, including narrow ridge and furrow, is recorded in the parish of Skidby (centred at TA 0175 3304), visible as cropmarks and earthworks on aerial photographs. Most of the remains appear to have been levelled by the time of the 2008 vertical photography.	0
AEC009 1566062	Iron Age/Roman	Field Boundary/Enclosure	Possible Iron Age-Roman ditched rectilinear enclosure and associated field boundary is recorded at grid reference TA 03293 36309, visible as cropmarks on aerial photographs. Two sides of the enclosure are identifiable (centred on TA 0329 3625), aligned with a field boundary. This boundary appears to correspond with an earthwork bank to the north (UID 1565996), suggesting it may represent a ditched component of a broader boundary system.	0
AEC010	Post-medieval	Gravel Pit	A post-medieval gravel pit is recorded at grid reference TA 02910 36493, visible as an earthwork on aerial photographs (centred on TA 0290 3650).	71

HER Reference and/ or Project UID	Period	Name/Monument Type	Description	Location/ Distance to Order Limits (OL) m
AEC011 1565982	Bronze Age/	Round Barrow	(1565982) Two Bronze Age round barrows are recorded at grid reference TA 02765 36464, visible as cropmarks on aerial photographs. The first, located at TA 0276 3645, measures approximately 22m in diameter and is cut by the ditch of an Iron Age/Roman enclosure (UID 1565984). A second, smaller probable barrow at TA 0276 3647 measures around 5m in diameter.	35
1565984	Iron Age/Roman	Ditch/Trackway/Field System/Field Boundary /Rectilinear Enclosure/Enclosure	(1565984) An Iron Age/Roman trackway with associated field system and enclosures is recorded at grid reference TA 02824 36453, visible as cropmarks on aerial photographs (centred on TA 0282 3643). The trackway is described as broad and sinuous, aligned northeast-east to southwest-west. Two additional lengths of the trackway lie to the east and are recorded separately (UIDs 1087958 and 1565989). A number of fragmentary rectilinear enclosures and field boundaries are visible flanking the trackway on both its north and south sides.	25
AEC012 1565875	Modern	Searchlight Battery	A Second World War searchlight battery is recorded at grid reference TA 02540 35218, visible as earthworks on aerial photographs. Some of the earthworks may be agricultural in origin. The features appear to be no longer extant on the 2008 vertical photography.	0
AEC013 1566002	Modern	Searchlight Battery	A Second World War searchlight battery is recorded at grid reference TA 02289 35756,	424

			visible as structures and earthworks on aerial photographs. The features appear to be no longer extant on the 2008 vertical photography.
AEC014 1566253	Post-medieval	Stack Stand	Two possible post-medieval stack stands are recorded, centred at TA 0209 3576, visible as earthworks on aerial photographs. The features appear to have been adapted from the ridges of medieval ridge and furrow (UID 1566276) and are no longer extant on the 2008 vertical photography.	459
AEC015 1565897	Modern	Bomb Crater	A Second World War bomb crater is recorded at grid reference TA 0185 3567, visible as an earthwork on aerial photographs. The feature survives as very slight earthworks on the 2008 vertical photography.	351
AEC016 1565894	Modern	Bomb Crater	A Second World War bomb crater is recorded at grid reference TA 0157 3588, visible as an earthwork on aerial photographs. The feature survives as very slight earthworks on the 2008 vertical photography.	579
AEC017 1566020	Medieval/Post-medieval	Boundary Ditch/Boundary Bank/Ditch/Trackway/	Medieval to post-medieval boundary ditches and banks are recorded, centred at TA 0168 3590, visible as earthworks on aerial photographs. The features appear to represent boundaries associated with the village of Bentley. Other ditches depicted on the Ordnance Survey first edition map, or considered likely to be drains, were not mapped. The features appear to be no longer extant on the 2008 vertical photography.	384

HER Reference and/ or Project UID	Period	Name/Monument Type	Description	Location/ Distance to Order Limits (OL) m
AEC018 1566033	Modern	Bomb Crater	A probable Second World War bomb crater is recorded at grid reference TA 0179 3511, visible as an earthwork on aerial photographs. The feature appears to be no longer extant on the 2008 vertical photography.	0
AEC019	Undated	Enclosure	A square enclosure is visible as cropmarks on Historic England aerial photographs 28761_027 - 035.	336
AEC020 1566906	Post-medieval	Stack Stand	A post-medieval stack stand is recorded at TA 0134 3385, visible as earthworks on aerial photographs. The feature comprises a small, embanked enclosure measuring approximately 11 by 12m, located to the north of Skidby, and is constructed on top of medieval ridge and furrow (UID 1566957).	712
AEC021	Post-medieval	Quarry	A chalk pit or quarry was identified by the National Mapping Programme.	816
AEC023 1566933	Medieval/Post-medieval	Boundary Ditch/Boundary Bank	A medieval or post-medieval boundary ditch and bank, approximately 225m in length, is recorded to the west of Skidby (centred at TA 0090 3321), visible as earthworks on aerial photographs. The feature is levelled and partially built over on the 2008 photography, predates a post-medieval field boundary, and has a dew pond cut into it; its function remains uncertain.	673
AEC024	Post-medieval	Quarry	An old chalk pit is shown on the First Edition OS map.	280

HER Reference and/ or Project UID	Period	Name/Monument Type	Description	Location/ Distance to Order Limits (OL) m
AEC025	Iron Age/Roman	Boundary Ditch/Rectilinear Enclosure	Iron Age or Roman rectilinear ditched enclosures and associated boundary ditches are recorded, visible as cropmarks on aerial photographs, centred at TA 0014 3387 and TA 0025 3399. One enclosure measures approximately 53 by 51m and has an entrance on its southern side. Further enclosures and ditches located to the north may be associated with these features (UID 1334543; see also TA 03 SW 26).	0
AEC026	Medieval/ Post-medieval	Plough Headland	Plough headland was noted during an AP and LiDAR assessment.	7
AEC028 1566927	Medieval	Boundary Bank	Possible medieval boundary banks are recorded at TA 0019 3278, visible as soilmarks, cropmarks, and earthworks on aerial photographs, but levelled by the latest 2008 photography. The broad banks, up to 38m wide, sometimes follow slightly sinuous courses and show evidence of a ditch on one or both sides. They are respected by later field, district, and union boundaries, which align with them, and include evidence of a narrow c.1.5m wide ditch along the southern edge. Medieval ridge and furrow both align with and cut across sections, and a chalk pit cuts into the bank at TA 0004 3245. The function of the features is uncertain.	0

HER Reference and/ or Project UID	Period	Name/Monument Type	Description	Location/ Distance to Order Limits (OL) m
AEC029	Post-medieval	Chalk Pit	A chalk pit was noted during an AP and LiDAR assessment.	101
AEC030	Undated	Trackway ditches	Cropmarks of a trackway were noted by the National Mapping Programme.	24
AEC031	Enclosure	Garden features	Features associated with Rowley Hall garden	167
AEC032	Post-medieval	Chalk Pit	Three chalk pits were noted during an AP and LiDAR assessment.	0
AEC034	Undated	Cropmark	A mound noted during the AP and LiDAR Assessment which presented as a more expansive magnetic disturbance in geophysical survey. The survey also revealed an undetermined curvilinear ditch to the west.	0
AEC035	Medieval/ Post-medieval/ Undated	Ditch/ Field Boundary/	Ditches, old field boundaries and trackways were noted during an AP and LiDAR assessment.	0
